— T. H. Haines

New York, Oct. 31. — A check for $57.50 was exhibited tonight by John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for President, before a group of the city's prominent citizens at the Hotel Hamilton.

Mr. Davis said he would not cash the check for all the money he had collected for the Democratic campaign fund, but would leave it in the hands of the committee, as a symbol of the spirit of democracy and republicanism.

As an evidence of "democracy," he said he had seen two letters from Mr. Grundy, one of the candidates for the office of governor, in which the candidate had asked for the money.

MELES, O., AWAITS EXPECTED TROUBLE

Klansters and Fleming Circle Adherents Due to Hold Meeting There Today

New York, Oct. 31. — Quietly, though not without some show of force, the members of the Ku Klux Klan, who are expected to hold a meeting at the Hotel Hamilton today, are awaiting the arrival of the members of the Fleming circle, who are expected to arrive from the city of New York.

Announcement was made by Dr. H. A. Hart, cyclops of the Klan, in the city of New York, that 25,000 members of the Fleming circle, and by speakers of the Fleming circle, that 10,000 of its members would be in the city.

The Klan members were advised to "avoid brawling with the police."

A request of a citizens' committee that a permit for a Klan parade be revoked, in an attempt to avert possible trouble, was denied by Mayor Harvey C. Kierulff today.

Demands of the mayor and Sheriff John P. Thomas for state troops were rejected by Governor A. V. Donahoe, unless they are "unmistakable and serious disorders."

In which event "every agency of the state government will be used" to restore order.

The Klan will march unopposed and with arms folded, Dr. Hart announced that the Klan was aware of the already aggravated situation by the announcement of a meeting of the Fleming circle in the city.

Many believed that disorders would result.

Starving Sailors Compel Unwilling
Skipper to Surrender to Coast Guard Cutter—Brought to Battery

LONG WITHOUT FOOD

Men Claim They Had Been Without Water or Anything to Eat for Week—20 Barrels of Brandy Confiscated

New York, Oct. 31. — Four starving sailors who said they had been shanghaied into the rum row service, compelled a reluctant skipper to surrender to a coast guard cutter brought to Battery.

The schooner Dorothy M. Smart of Newfoundland and her crew, consisting of four sailors, were seized by the coast guard cutter.

Michael Gillan of Halifax was the skipper's name. His crew was composed of Louis Coccioli, mate; and Albert Edouard Burgomaster, cook, both of New York; and Henry A. Gilles, Perth Amboy, N. J., and Carl Jaeger, Boston, seamen.

Scouting between the rum fleet and shore, the Gresham's searchlight last night picked out the glimmering top lights of a craft that seemed abandoned.

A British ensign hung upside down from a binnacle, the sign of distress.

The Gresham hailed the little two-masted, four-decked schooner, and four despairing sailors answered. They announced that they were prisoners aboard; that they had been without food and water for seven days; that their skipper refused to let them ashore. They pleaded to Captain Zee Brockway of the Gresham to tow them inside the three-mile limit and take possession of the schooner.

Found Ship on Rum Row.

Skipper Brockway consented to the towing of the craft and thus the cutter and its prize arrived today at the battery where it was boarded by agents of the department of justice who seized the 20 barrels of brandy in the vessel's hold and began an investigation of the shanghaiing story.

"We shipped out of New York 23 days ago," was Mate Coccioli's tale. "We were told we were signed up for a voyage to Halifax."

Between New York and Cape May, they took us out at night in a speed boat, and when we woke up this morning we were on the Dorothy M. Smart, surrounded by casks of rum and in the midst of the rum fleet."

Ordered to hoist sail for a voyage to Halifax, the sailors complied with a demand that they be set ashore at once, they said. The skipper refused, and so they drifted about for 22 days with sails furled. The anchor was lost and a week ago the food and water ran out, and distress signals were run.

The sailors said they might have taken command of the craft and sailed her into port, but the skipper warned them that that would be mutiny and piracy, so they watched and drifted until at last the Gresham came to the rescue.

Captain Gillan declared he knew nothing of the shanghaiing or how his crew got aboard. All he would tell was that he came from Newfoundland and found the two-master on rum row, apparently a derelict, and took command of her.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC TAKES POSSESSION OF NEW LINES

New York, Oct. 31. — The Southern Pacific company announced tonight the formal completion of its plans to acquire the El Paso & Southwestern railroad, effecting the first large railroad consolidation under the transportation act.

The transaction was completed today when the Southern Pacific transferred $10,000,000 of its capital stock and $20,000,000 of its five percent bonds to the El Paso & Southwestern company in payment for the El Paso & Southwestern railroad and seven subsidiary lines. The Southern Pacific company also executed a lease under which it will take over the operation of these roads beginning tomorrow, as a part of its own system.

Consolidation of the two railroads puts Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the Southern Pacific, at the head of a 12,000-mile road with an income of $10,000,000 a year.

ORDER TO CLEAR WOODS APPROVED

D. & H. and Central Will Continue
Use of Oil Burners While Danger Lasts

The New York Central and Delaware and Hudson railroads notified the commission today that they would continue the use of oil burning locomotives on their Adirondack branches as long as the situation requires. The Public Service commission's order, it was explained, calls for the use of oil burners only until tomorrow, but the railroads indicated the oil locomotives would be continued in use and every precaution taken to avoid starting new fires along the tracks.

Inspectors informed headquarters that hunters and campers were accepting the situation philosophically, that there were few trying to enter the woods and many were leaving and that the efforts to protect the forests from the depredations of further fires was generally approved.

Claims Democrats
WANT SPOILS RULE

Roosevelt Declares Big Issue of Campaign Is That Between Good and Bad Government

New York, Oct. 31. — Charging that the Democrats in many "outrageous" ways were trying to "recreate the spoils system," Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Republican nominee for governor, speaking in Queens county tonight, declared that "one of the great issues of the campaign is the issue between decent government in the public interest and improper government simply in the interest of a political party."

Colonel Roosevelt renewed his accusation against the Democrats in regard to the education bill, by saying they have tried to get their hands on our school system to make it into a political machine. He asserted that the Democrats had endeavored to draw the department of farms and markets also into the maelstrom of partisan politics.

The loyalty of Tammany hall is to Tammany hall itself," he said. "The loyalty of the Republican party is to the state first. We must smash the attempt to return to the old system when fear or favor governs."

SMITH ACCUSES ROOSEVELT OF ERROR IN SCHOOL STAND

New York, Oct. 31. — Governor Smith tonight accused Theodore Roosevelt, his Republican opponent, of making "gross misstatements" about the governor's attitude to the schools, and asserted that, in sending the message to the State Senate last night, he had committed a "blatant and unheard-of act."

The governor, speaking at Kismet hall, Brooklyn, declared that the Republicans in the assembly had made "gross misstatements" about the governor's attitude to the schools, and asserted that, in sending the message to the State Senate last night, he had committed a "blatant and unheard-of act."

Referring to Colonel Roosevelt's charge that the governor had "deprived dependents of dead veterans of the bonus due them," the governor said the bill for this purpose to the senate was in a form that coincided with the bill passed by the assembly.

STORY STILL SECRET

Circumstantial Tale Comes Into Chicago Hearing But Public Is Able to Obtain Not Slightest Clue of Nature

Chicago, Oct. 31. — Contributions to the Republican campaign fund made through the national committee, aggregated $3,742,962 at the close of business last night, according to an official report presented today to Chairman Borah of the senate campaign fund investigating committee.

Responding to a specific request for a report on collections in Illinois and New York during the five-day period, Mr. Borah said no sums applicable to the budget of the national committee had been collected in Illinois, but that $3,742,962 had been received as the collecting agency for the state to which the money was returned.

Collections in New York from October 25 to October 29 and applicable to the national committee budget were aggregated at $3,915, while collections as agency for the state to which the money was returned aggregated $113,164.

Mr. Borah reported that the New York figures for October 30 were not available.

Chairman Borah has called upon the Democratic and Independent national political organizations for reports as of yesterday and the whole country with a view to their publication before election day. They are to be furnished to the committee at Washington.

Mr. Borah's report was supplied after the Chicago end of the inquiry had been closed with the examination of three additional witnesses. In adjourning the hearings, Senator Borah said there would be a further inquiry after the election.

"And after the political consequences of the investigation have been digested," he said, "I think we can get at such facts as will be available."

Mysterious Story Still Hidden.

The mysterious story told by two Chicago men came in for further discussion today, but without the lifting in any way of the veil of secrecy that has surrounded it since it first was brought to the attention of the committee 10 days ago by Samuel C. Sullivan, New York attorney who has been assisting in prosecuting the inquiry.

Chairman Borah said that perhaps his statement of yesterday that the committee had not given much credence to the "supposed evidence" of the Chicago story "was broader than it should have been."

Only three witnesses were heard at the concluding session of the Chicago session of the committee. Mr. Sullivan presented figures showing the money made by various states by the Republican campaign committee on the basis of collections made in those states in support of the state campaign.

Mr. Sullivan's figures showed that the Republican campaign committee had received $1,000,000 from the state of New York, $500,000 from the state of Illinois, and $500,000 from the state of Ohio.

The other witnesses, E. W. Ferguson, general counsel for the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, testified that he personally was responsible for sending out along the North Western lines literature attacking La Follette and opposing a campaign of opposition of the railroad.

He added that he had had some correspondence with the Chicago story, but that he would have to pay the bills out of his own pocket.

WOULD RESTRICT STATE EDUCATION

Graves Would Eliminate Mental Weaklings From Higher Schooling at State's Expense

New York, Oct. 31. — Daily, in the past week with boys and girls should not be accorded the advantage of higher education at the expense of the state, in the opinion of Frank P. Graves, state commissioner of education.

Capacity for industry and perseverance should be the cardinal qualities sought by educators in devising tests to determine the recipients of a college or university education at the state's expense, Mr. Graves told in a speech at the opening of the annual convention of the New York Teachers' association today.

"Experience," he said, "shows that mental qualities, such as industry, perseverance, loyalty, courage and integrity, and social qualities, like a sense of humor, tact, sympathy and ability for which no effective tests have yet been devised, are frequently of much more consequence in determining leadership and success than is abstract intelligence."

"Nevertheless, the attempt to limit higher education to those who will make of it some real profit to themselves and society, may well be considered a laudable tendency, if it is not broadly construed. Wide intelligence tests are still in a rough and unfinished state, if they can be made to take account of all factors and can be used with proper caution, they may eventually become of greatest value in selecting those who are to be educated for leadership."

Leadership is the result of environment and education, rather than heredity, Dr. Graves said, and for that reason the public schools were responsible for producing the right sort of social leaders.

"We American teachers," he continued, "have at length come to have some misgivings as to the wisdom of admitting to college everyone who applies. Such vast herds have besieged our colleges as to make the accommodation of them all a physical impossibility and we have been obliged to pause long enough to ask ourselves who should be allowed the privileges of higher education."

ADOLPH DELORME
FOUND NOT GUILTY

Two Previous Juries Had Disagreed
as to Responsibility of Ex-
Priest for Murder

Montreal, Oct. 31. — Adolphe Delorme, French priest, was acquitted of the charge of having murdered his half-brother, in January, 1922, by a jury in the court of King's bench today. It was his third trial on the same charge.

The jury was out less than four hours. At the former priest's two previous trials, the juries failed to agree.

The former priest has been either in jail or in sanatorium undergoing tests as to his mental competence most of the time since the frozen body of his half-brother, Raoul Delorme, a University of Ottawa student, was found beside a road on the outskirts of the city almost three years ago. He had been shot six times in the head.

Crown attorneys charged that Adolphe Delorme had killed the younger man because he might inherit his $130,000 estate. It was testified at the earlier trials that the former priest had killed his half-brother to take out of a fortune he was named in.

Adolphe Delorme was said to have been named as the beneficiary.

Declares 'Labor' Devoted About

La Follette—Tells of Obtaining Subscriptions

Washington, Oct. 31. — The Washington section of the senate committee investigating into political campaign funds adjourned today until after the election at the close of a session devoted to hearing testimony bearing on the activities of labor organizations in support of the La Follette-Wheeler ticket.

Joseph H. Grady, chairman of the La Follette-Wheeler campaign, who had been recalled by the committee, also testified concerning contributions in that state and said that he had raised $221,000 outside of the Pittsburgh district, bringing the total Republican fund raised in Pennsylvania to $791,000.

Testimony relating to the support of the American Federation of Labor by the La Follette-Wheeler candidates received the major attention of the committee during the day.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the organization, told the committee that the federation had collected $23,734 in voluntary contributions from the membership and had spent $20,000 in the campaign. He declared no contribution had been made to the La Follette organization from the treasury of the American Federation of Labor.

H. M. Brunson, assistant director of the La Follette-Wheeler headquarters here, told the committee he had received approximately $124,999 from the sale of 1,000,000 La Follette-Wheeler campaign buttons. Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, testified that the organization had collected between $130 and $200,000 for the La Follette-Wheeler campaign.

Alexander Kahn, New York attorney, who said he was a member of the association publishing the "Daily Worker," a Jewish labor newspaper, has declared his committee and raised $28,000 in New York for the campaign.

No Requests to Canadian Labor

At the opening of the afternoon session, Chairman Caraway announced that the senate committee had agreed to permit the testimony of several witnesses subpoenaed for today to go over until after the election in view of the limited time. Among those were Jesse Jones, financial director of the Democratic national committee, and Norman H. Davis, former under-secretary of state, who had been requested to bring all documents bearing on plans to "underwrite and defray" the cost of the Democratic organization.

A telegram from the financial director stating that the Democrats had "no plans for underwriting a deficit" was admitted to the record.

PINCH AUCTIONEER TO BID AT SALE

New York Bowery Has An Unusual Sale.

New York. A client of the Bowery, where the auctioneer and where transactions run to as high as $250,000 a day is one of the most unique markets on the Bowery. It is here that three fourths of the unrefined pledges of pawnbrokers in the large Eastern cities are disposed of. Nothing is dear but jewelry, watches, antiques and such valuable articles as high-class furs, glasses, etc.

Sales are held daily. Pawnbrokers bring their unrefined pledges to the auction rooms where they are sold daily. A pawnbroker hands in for sale, for instance, a diamond ring and tells how much he wants for it—confidentially to the auctioneer. The auctioneer passes the ring from hand to hand in a circle of spectators about him. He is seated in a chair on an elevation. When the article is returned, he asks for a bid.

The bidders express their ambitions by putting the amount of the bid on the left hand of the auctioneer, who is a Jew, from his wife to his neck. When the bidding opens, he is literally covered with hands. The auctioneer knows, for example, that the hand on his right knee is that of Morris Hirsch, the hand on the left knee is that of Jacob Hirsch, the hand grasping his left elbow is that of Hyman Cohen, and so on. He feels a certain squeeze repeated in a certain way. That means Morris Hirsch has offered $200.

Pay After Auction. That may be the only squeeze the auctioneer gets on the article on display, or he may get a dozen others. He hands the article to the man whose last squeeze indicated the highest bid. A memorandum is made and another article offered. No cash is exchanged and settlements are made at the end of the auction.

Sales are made with bewildering speed. When the stock is disposed of, the buyers troop downstairs to the ground floor exchange rooms and get ready for business.

The dealers have little stalls in the main exchange where jewelry, purses, etc. are sold. Little time is wasted in bargaining and business is usually brisk.

Washington, Nov. 1. A telegram from Henry Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, to the Brisbane Chamber of Commerce, praising the work of Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States. The telegram states that Ford is on the side of productive service.

Two systems of business, Ford said, are in vogue. One is the system of the "big game," in which a few men make their money by speculation. The other is the system of the "small game," in which many men make their money by productive service.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING

TO THE VOTERS OF OTSEGO COUNTY

The greatest problem which faces the taxpayers of Otsego county is the care and maintenance of its poor and dependent, both adults and children, and the proper management of the extensive farming interests connected with the Otsego County Home.

To my mind, the chief of superintendents of the Home, something more than the dealing out of political patronage during any particular tenure of office. As a candidate for that office, I am standing squarely on my record for the past six years. I invite inspection of the records, and the conditions of the farm and home. I have no apologies to offer, and no promises to make that the future will be better than the past, except that I shall try to benefit by what I have learned by experience during the past six years. If I have not improved in the past, I have not improved in the future.

I have made no personal canvass during this campaign, believing that I could better conserve the interest of those who have entrusted the office to my care, by giving it my undivided time and attention.

I will appreciate the support in the coming election of all voters who approve of my past administration, and believe in my ability and honesty for the future.

Very sincerely yours,

M. J. ESMAY

Railroad Man's Leg Amputated.

Wednesday at the Kingston City hospital, Charles Frazier, a resident of that city, had his right leg amputated below the knee as the result of an accident last Saturday when he fell from a coal train on the Ulster and Delaware railroad near Grand George hotel station. At the time of the accident Frazier was setting the brakes on one of the loaded cars of a train en route to Kingston and the chain of the brake broke, causing him to lose his balance. In falling he managed to swing his body outward and fell clear of the train, rolling down an embankment into a ditch. He was rushed to the Kingston hospital where it was found that he had sustained a compound fracture of the leg. His condition is as favorable as could be expected. He is under the care of Dr. A. A. Brown, chief of the hospital.

A SUCCESSFUL COMEDY

Raymond Hitchcock in "The Per" at Oneonta Theatre Monday.

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK

eager to estimate his talents as a comedian. He is a character of a street, authentic description, free from the temptation to improvise and exaggerate. The audience, because of the deep impression made on him during his tour in New York, "The Old Soak," in which he was seen last year, and in which he secured heavily. In bringing to life on the stage the delicacy and human philosophy of the central character of the new play, he is said to have given the theatre a portrayal that will occupy a niche in the comedy that will endure for all time. As in the past Mr. Hitchcock will have an unusually efficient supporting company.
